

5 Star investigates.....

Lost Items

The office is a nice quiet place, and it is so peaceful. Until you trip over a hat! The other day I was looking at the lost and found, and it occurred to me, why are there so many items in the lost & found? There are hats, gloves, scarves, backpacks, boots, clothes, you name it! So we, the 5 Star News team decided to investigate to see what is the most common reason that items end up at the lost & found. After interviewing students as well as staff, here are the results. Below

WHY ARE THERE SO MUCH ITEMS IN THE LOST + FOUND

While interviewing lots of people, some people told us their opinion about this issue.

“Well, I think it’s really because lots of kids don’t care about the items that they have lost, otherwise they would be wearing their gloves to keep their little hands warm!” says, LaDaysha Copeland, 5th Grade.

Mrs. Bentley, 3rd Grade teacher also agrees with LaDaysha.

“I think that for the most part, kids just misplace items, and I think that once they lose it they just don’t care because they didn’t pay for it so they don’t spend that much time looking for it.

I think if they bought it, they would make sure they find it.”

Well, I guess it all depends on what situation they are in, but one thing is for sure, there will always be lots of items in the lost and found.
