

Presidential Election 2012

Hello Mulick Park students, the big Presidential Election is coming up (Nov.6). The first African-American President Barack Obama (Democrat) is running for re-election against Mitt Romney (Republican). The two, along with their campaign teams have been going around the country to various states giving speeches to people, trying to persuade people into voting for them. I personally think that Obama might win because he already has experience in the office. Other people might think that Mitt Romney might win because America wants someone new. Well, you know how you have to be 18+ to vote, well here at Mulick Park we are having a mock election, where we can cast our own vote, and it's going to be so cool. Get ready for Presidential Election 2012.
